

15 Wednesday
Feb 1967.

Dear Don,

The vacation I asked for was from ^{thoughts about} Ernest, not necessarily from you. Or does it have to be one package? I feel I would like to get better acquainted with you. You seem a kindred soul, and being almost young enough to be my child I can feel relaxed.

Some day I will show you the other things saved from the writing. If you like this you will like it all.

Perhaps you better get on with what else you need from me. I have an invitation to visit in Cuernavaca, Mexico. I have a friend who has a beautiful home there. I know I shouldn't afford it, and I feel guilty about leaving Sidney, but I think I will do it. I will go the last part of March. If you don't go thru open doors they might not open again.

Yes, Ernest did toss people aside, wanting to get on to something new. Perhaps he remembered me because he never had me and so I remained on the upward slope rather than the place following the denouement. That may be why he remained in my mind as a sort of star to follow.

I really feel good again, so don't worry.

Marge.

One of the reasons you won't find much in the Pelkey paper about people, is that it was considered very bad taste to get your name in the paper. Here in Dayton people seem to love to get their names in chatter box, the personal column.
