

My dear Don,

Thursday
Nov. 2 (9?) 1967

Since your summons of the family, I will dash a note to let you Sidney died yesterday morning. Sid came last night and George arrives tonight. I thought I was ready and had everything ready - but I find I still dash around - stomach churning and full of jitters. But I am so glad he is gone. He hasn't been able to turn or feed himself or respond in any way. The last day he did squeeze my hand and that seemed valuable. He died as he lived - peacefully - quietly and taking his own slow time about it. When I die - if I follow my pattern - it will be quickly. J.L. didn't get ~~the~~ your address in time. He left Rome early because of crowded conditions. He is now in Barcelona. - Ruth.

Hope all is well with you. -
