

Dec. 6 '65

My dear Don and Ruth,

George forwarded your letter and card. The flu caught me, so I am still in bed with Pudge. I am truly enjoying it. It is one of those times when the years between seem to melt away - and we are back to early roots. You would enjoy being a nurse. Listening to our conversations about Ernest. With you in mind I am taking notes. In time I will send them on for you to see - also an old autograph book of Pudge's with Ernest on the front page. I have told Pudge about you and she feels, as I do, that she would like to tell what a nice person Ernest was -

Pudge is so much better and so patient about the limitations caused by her stroke. Her children home good. Marriages and we prospering. Carl is beautiful - in a delicate blond way - like Dresden China. Bob is good looking and 6'2" tall. How the whole picture has changed for all of them.

I agree, Ruth, that we should meet in '69. I want to be home until April - but that is a good month in Florida, also May. The best of New Year to you both. Love
Marge
